

ABOUT GDCI

The Global Development College of Inclusion (GDCI) fosters an inclusive learning environment, embracing diversity and fairness. We welcome students of all abilities, races, ethnicities, genders, religions, and socio-economic backgrounds, ensuring their perspectives are valued.

Kenzie Mcleod
Deputy vice-Chancellor of GDCI

Kenzie, with 30 years of global teaching experience, supports parents of students with diverse needs, including learning and speech-language difficulties. Her consultancy offers therapy, behavior support, and transition assistance.

GDCI supports educators in creating an inclusive culture, offering extra assistance, resources, and thorough evaluations to monitor student progress. Collaborating with special education teachers, therapists, and counselors, we aim to provide a comprehensive and empowering educational experience for all students.

GDCI ADVISORY SERVICE

The GDCI advisory service assists students within their family, community, and school settings. We advocate for students with additional needs and offer personalized advice on teaching strategies, learning resources, educational assessments, and more. Our goal is to improve access to and participation in the curriculum and enhance educational outcomes for students.

There is only one world and all people without exception are part of it

GDCI's SCHOOL ADVISORY SERVICE collaborates with schools to assess student needs and develop tailored plans. We provide curriculum adjustments, specialized resources, communication development, technology assistance, sensory accommodations, and mental health strategies. Our services include Assessments and Therapy, Autism Consultancy, Behavior Support, Skill Training, Group Programs, professional development for teachers, and parent education. This ensures holistic support for every student's educational experience.

GDCI FAMILY ADVISORY SERVICE

supports families with children having disabilities, providing guidance on disability services and empowering families to help their children thrive. We offer online and in-person peer groups, programs, and resources to create a caring community for families to access support and opportunities.

Emotional Support

Gain understanding and support from like-minded parents, share experiences, and learn from others.

Practical Advice

Access research-based information, practical tips, and strategies like effective routines and social stories.

Empowerment

Develop skills to advocate for your child, navigate disability systems, and gain confidence.

Healthy Lifestyle

Learn to foster a healthy lifestyle, find balance between caring for your child and self-care.

Community Connection

Participate in a safe, inclusive space, and connect with a supportive community both online and in-person.

April 2 was declared Autism Awareness Day to contribute to the cause.

At GDCI we work to provide support and information to create more inclusive environments.
